The Ghost: The Man Who Can't be Killed

The Story

Dr. Julio Antonio del Marmol was 11 years old when Fidel Castro made him the youngest commander of his Revolutionary Army. After witnessing the corruption and greed of the Castro family, the young Dr. Marmol decided to join his uncle as a spy for the United States. At the age of 12, Julio became the youngest spy in American History.

After 8 years of feeding Cuban intelligence directly from Castro's inner circle to The West, the young spy was exposed, prompting an immediate escape and extraction aided by the US military in GITMO. Dr. Marmol successfully made it to Florida. Payback began immediately the Castro family proceeded to murder his family and friends, including his young son.

Dr. Marmol continued his life as a freedom fighter - a citizen of nowhere but with passports to everywhere - and he was able to build a mercenary career of espionage and black operations for countries around the world. As a man without any real identity, governments utilized this unique person to carry out operations so dangerous and secretive, they wouldn't use their own nationals over fears of exposure. Dr. Marmol became a ghost for hire for countries all over the world.

Throughout this career, however, his Cuban past would never escape him. The Castro family sought revenge on Dr. Marmol for the next 50 years. To this day, Dr. Marmol has evaded assassination attempts 56 times - from car bombings to snipers, poisoned food to seductive hitwomen, Dr. Marmol this day, Dr. Marmol has evaded assassination attempts 56 times - from car bombings to snipers, poisoned food to seductive hitwomen, Dr. Marmol this day, Dr. Marmol has evaded assassination attempts 56 times - from car bombings to snipers, poisoned food to seductive hitwomen, Dr. Marmol this day, Dr. Marmol has evaded assassination attempts 56 times - from car bombings to snipers, poisoned food to seductive hitwomen, Dr. Marmol this day, Dr. Marmol has evaded assassination attempts 56 times - from car bombings to snipers, poisoned food to seductive hitwomen, Dr. Marmol this day, Dr. Marmol has evaded assassination attempts 56 times - from car bombings to snipers, poisoned food to seductive hitwomen, Dr. Marmol this day, Dr. Marmol has evaded assassination attempts 56 times - from car bombings to snipers, poisoned food to seductive hitwomen, Dr. Marmol this day, Dr. Marmol has evaded assassination attempts 56 times - from car bombings to snipers, poisoned food to seductive hitwomen, Dr. Marmol this day, Dr. Marmol has evaded assassination attempts 56 times - from car bombings to snipers, poisoned food to seductive hitwomen, Dr. Marmol has evaded assassination attempts 56 times - from car bombings to snipers, poisoned food to seductive hitwomen, Dr. Marmol has evaded assassination attempts 56 times - from car bombings to snipers, poisoned food to seductive hitwomen, Dr. Marmol has evaded assassination attempts 56 times - from car bombings to snipers, poisoned food to seductive hitwomen, Dr. Marmol has evaded assassination attempts at the food of the hitwomen attempts at the food of the hitwomen

Dr. Marmol's career as a spy left him with information and stories of countless major events in world history including never-before heard secrets of the Kennedy assassination, the death of Earnest Hemingway, Watergate, the bin Laden raid and 9/11.

Perhaps one of his strangest and most controversial missions, codenamed "The Zipper," was carried out for the CIA. Because of its incredibly illegal and unethical nature, a man with no identity was the perfect fit for the mission. The US government was funding covert operations around the world, but they needed a way to actually pay for them. This is where Dr. Marmol steps in. The CIA tasked Dr. Marmol with counterfeiting US currency to fund their top secret interests around the world. Taxpayer dollars could never be used for such missions - concealing the details of these operations was fund therefor this counterfeit money was printed by the billion in order to finance counterterrorism, bribe foreign governments, and fund covert operations. Among the main objectives were to aid in the collapse of the Russian economy and the fall of the Berlin Wall.

This operation ended with Dr. Marmol being caught and arrested by local authorities. Obviously unaware of the mission, local authorities put a stop to the massive counterfeiting operation and sent Dr. Marmol to jail. While awaiting trial, the case disappeared, court documents were sealed, and a federal judge massive counterfeiting operation and sent Dr. Marmol to jail. While awaiting trial, the case disappeared, court documents were sealed, and a federal judge demanded his immediate release by order of the President. It was never spoken of again. An no one (other than Dr. Marmol) knows what happened to all of that money.

The Ghost: The Man Who Can't be Killed is a documentary that chronicles this unbelievable life and career. Stories of every assassination attempt creates the backbone of the arc, while this Forest Gump-like tale of espionage and black operations around the world highlight every chapter of the story.
